

Fortress

I've got nothing left to hide
My armor's on the ground
This battle's left me dry
My strength has broken down
You pull me to Your side

I'm suddenly surrounded by Your hand
Perfectly astounded I can stand

*Your power is what's keeping me together
Your strength is all that's keeping me alive
Your fortress is the only hope I have to survive*

Your stillness never ends
Your kindness never sleeps
You come to my defense
You claim the victory

And outside those walls the battle rages on
But You will not fall

*Your power is what's keeping me together
Your strength is all that's keeping me alive
Your fortress is the only hope I have to survive*

I've never felt a love like Yours
Never felt alive before the day You led me home
So I'll fill the air with melodies
Embrace You with the words I sing
Your grace has led me home